MADONNA, BY RAPHAEL.

In Pitti Gallery, Florence.

BY COURTESY OF THE PERRY PICTURES CO.

What do you consider, Mr. Angell, the most important work you do?

Answer. Talking each month to the editors of every newspaper and magazine in North America north of Mexico, who in their turn talk to probably over sixty millions of readers.

It is within the power of united Christian churches to prevent any war between Christian nations.

DUM-DUM BULLETS AND LYDDITE SHELLS IN WAR.

A PROPER SUBJECT FOR CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS.

We have had occasion in a previous issue of our paper to call attention to the dum-dum bullets, a single one of which makes a hole in an Adirondack deer sufficiently large for the hunter to put both his hands in, and we have expressed hope that they may not be used in the South African war to kill horses and men.

We have now in the Boston Morning Herald of November 6th, the following telegram from London, of November 5th, in regard to the lyddite shells, which it seems are going to be used by the British troops in this war:—

LONDON, Nov. 5, 1899. "The Woolwich howitzer brigade will be hurried to the Cape at once. The brigade has 10,000 rounds of 5-inch lyddite shells awaiting it. According to the estimates, a single shell falling into a compact body will kill 300 men. It was demonstrated in the battle of Omdurman, which destroyed the army of Khalifa Abdullah, that large numbers of dervishes were killed by suffocation, while hundreds of birds fell upon the battle-field from the same cause."

In the Boston Evening Transcript of Nov. 11th we find this:—

"Speaking of the lyddite shells with which the British [in spite of General Joubert's protests] are doing such execution on the Boers around Ladysmith, here are some figures from Bloch's horribly fascinating book on war: 'A bomb weighing about 70 pounds thirty years ago would have burst into 42 fragments. To-day, when it is charged with peroxilene, it breaks up into 1200 pieces, each of which is hurled with much greater velocity than the larger lumps which were scattered by a gunpowder explosion.'"

We used very strong language in our paper some four or five years ago [as our readers know] in endeavoring to prevent a war between our Government and Great Britain on account of the Venezuela boundary, when General Flagler [head of U. S. Artillery], advised us to blow up the Welland Canal, and the general in command of the New York militia announced his readiness to march at once to kill our brother Christians who were so unfortunate as to live on the other side of the Canadian line. If the British Government had not shown at that time vastly more common sense than ours, we should have had British fleets with plenty of these beautiful shells off our then unfortified cities, and have found out sooner [what some of us are now beginning to find out], that General Sherman was right when he said "War is hell"—hell to the dumb animals whom it is our duty to try to protect, as well as to human beings.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

If Aguinaldo keeps the field much longer he stands a chance of getting a first-class blowing up. Not only has General Otis a battery of dynamite guns ready for service, but the secretary of war has authorized the use of thorite, a new and terrible high explosive. It can be used in the ordinary shell. Its explosive force is so high that it will break the shells into thousands of fragments, which will scatter far and wide.

Boston Evening Transcript, Nov. 11.

DEWEY AND THE WAR.

[Special Dispatch to the Boston Herald.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 14, 1899.—Shortly after his return here Admiral Dewey made this statement in response to an inquiry as to whether the conflict with the Filipinos could have been avoided:

"If Leonard Wood (that is Gen. Wood, in command at Santiago) had been in command of the forces at Manila there would have been no war, or if there had been it would not have lasted more than six weeks. You are the 26th man I have said this to. I am going to say it to the 27th. The 27th will be the President."

He did then go and make the same statement to the President.

We wonder (1) whether the President ever did a better thing in his whole administration than in sending Leonard Wood to Santiago.

And (2) whether [one of these days] when our people get tired of carrying on wars, a better man can be found to be President of the United States than Leonard Wood.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

DEWEY FOR ONCE MISSED FIRE.

When Henry Clay was stumping Kentucky for reelection at one of his mass meetings, an old hunter of wide political influence said: "Well, Harry, I've always been for you, but because of that vote [which he named] I'm goin' agin you." "Let me see your rifle," said Clay. It was handed up to him. "Is she a good rifle?" "Yes." "Did she ever miss fire?" "Well, yes, once." "Why didn't you throw her away?" The old hunter thought a moment and then said, "Harry, I'll try you agin." And Harry was elected.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

THE POWER OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

UPON WHOM CAN HE RELY?

(1) Upon all army and navy officers who hope for distinction, promotion and larger pay.

(2) Upon all who for various reasons enlist in our army and navy, where they can secure good pay, and life pensions when disabled.

(3) Upon all army and navy contractors who supply our armies and navy with guns, ships and all army and navy supplies to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars.

(4) Upon a great standing army of it may be two hundred thousand office holders scattered all over our country, in every city and town, who are anxious to retain their offices and ready to use every effort through the press, public meetings, dinners, speeches and otherwise to sustain the administration which sustains them.

Probably no man in the world [unless it be the Czar of Russia] has greater power than our President in time of war.

Would it not be a wise provision of law to limit the presidential office to one term of four years?

GEO. T. ANGELL.

SOUTH AFRICA.

We have during the past two years been aiding the formation of a considerable number of our American Bands of Mercy at Capetown and in South Africa, and now comes this terrible war—terrible for the Christian (?) peoples engaged in it—and terrible for tens of thousands of horses and mules which will because of it suffer and die.

"War is hell" not only to men, women and children, but also to God's innocent dumb creatures, for whom we try to speak and act.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

HORSES FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

The preparations for war have revealed some curious facts. As most Americans know, the principal mode of traffic in London and other large cities is by omnibuses. It seems that all the large omnibus companies are subsidized by the government, just as the principal steamship lines. Nearly 20,000 horses have been and are being shipped to South Africa.—Boston Herald, Sept. 24th.

[We pity the horses].

IS WAR DIFFERENT?

FOR USE IN SCHOOLS AND SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

What are these men doing?
Are they fighting?
Oh, no, they are not fighting—they are only sparring.
Is it wrong to spar?
Yes. Lots of Governors will not allow it in their States.

What are these men doing?

These men are duelling.

Is it wrong to duel—won't these men shoot each other?

Oh, yes, it is horridly wrong to fight duels, although men do not often shoot each other at it; yet they do not allow it in the United States.

Well, what are these men at?
These men are at war.
Will not these men kill each other?
Yes, they will. Men go to war to kill each other.
Is it right for men to fight and kill each other in war?
The United States says it is, and England says it is, and they go a long way across the ocean to fight and kill people, and say they are doing right.

In "Humanity," Kansas City, Missouri.

SWITZERLAND

Has no standing army—no fortifications—and no wars.

WHAT A THOUGHT.

What a thought it is to the intelligent reflecting mind that at the close of this nineteenth century all the great nations of the world professing to be the followers of Christ and to be looking forward to an inheritance in the same heaven should be struggling to maintain enormous armies and navies with all the terrible modern inventions of war for the purpose of killing each other—and then the savagery. Even in our highest institutions of learning the brutal sports— on this November 18th [not in China or Japan or among the Boers of South Africa who are so bravely contending against the whole British Empire, but here in Massachusetts, in the Christian university city of Cambridge, thirty-four thousand seats sold at high prices to witness a gambling prize fight between students of Harvard and Yale, and the Governor of New York encouraging the business by saying that if any son of his should weigh broken bones against the honor of being one of a foot-ball eleven he would disinherit him], and then the almost entire lack of education of the heart in these institutions—their glorification of war—the encouragement given to the hunting and killing of God's harmless lower creatures for the mere fun of hunting and killing them—[a fun which would be deemed infamous in Japan.]

Is there to be no change?

Is this old world to roll on forever in this same way and the dawning of peace on earth and good will to men and all God's lower creatures never to come?

We have faith to believe that the twentieth century will see a great change—that humane education will be carried into the colleges and schools of all civilized nations, and war and savagery will gradually vanish and an age of peace and good-will will eventually come.

In the meantime we propose while our earthly life lasts to do all in our power to aid its coming.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

HARVARD, YALE AND AMHERST.

The original seals of Harvard College, it is stated, contained three open Bibles, as the symbol of their illuminating power. Yale and Amherst in like manner made the Bible the source of learning and the foundation of all true education.

EDITORS MAY SAVE MANY LIVES.

The other evening a gentleman, standing in the aisle of one of our electric cars, was thrown off his balance by a sudden jerk, and to save himself thrust his hand through one of the car windows, in doing which an artery was cut, the floor was drenched with blood and he would have quickly bled to death but for a young man in the back of the car, who had been attending emergency lectures and who rushed forward and giving his handkerchief a tourniquet twist about the gentleman's arm above the cut, stopped the bleeding and so saved his life. If the editors of the about twenty thousand publications to which our paper goes every month will republish this it may be the means of saving, in railroad and other accidents, many lives.

WASHINGTON,
D. C.

We are glad to learn from our good friend President Pratt, of the Washington Humane Society, that 130 Bands of Mercy have now been formed in Washington, by Mrs. Helen Armour, acting for the Society.

Sixty-three in the white public schools, with a membership of 3111, and 67 in the colored schools, with 2360 members, making a total of 5471; also that the Bands of Mercy are in active and efficient operation, and will soon be formed in all the schools of the city.

DULUTH,

MINNESOTA.

We are glad to learn that through the exertions of Mrs. Sarah A. Turle of Duluth, Bands of Mercy have been established in the public schools of Duluth, with a total membership of between 7000 and 9000 children, and that active measures are being taken to make their meetings a great success.

This good lady hopes the good Lord will forget how old we are and permit us to live many more years, to which we cheerfully say Amen.

RINGING THE CHRISTMAS CHIMES.

BY COURTESY OF THE PERCY PICTURES COMPANY.

[One of our Band of Mercy Hymns.]

RING THE BELLS OF MERCY.

BY EMILY BRYANT LORD, OF BUFFALO, N. Y.

Tune—"Onward, Christian Soldiers."

Ring the bells of mercy,
Ring them loud and clear,
Let their music linger
Softly on the ear,
Filling souls with pity
For the dumb and weak,
Telling all the voiceless
We for them will speak.

Ring the bells of mercy
Over hill and plain,
Let the ancient mountains
Chant the glad refrain,

That where man abideth,
Or creature God hath made,
Laws of love and kindness
Shall on each soul be laid.

Ring the bells of mercy
Over land and sea,
Let the waiting millions
Join the jubilee,
Peace on earth descending,
Fill the human breast,
Giving to the weary
Sweet and blessed rest.

While marching to the great meeting of 25,000 Band of Mercy children in Convention Hall, Kansas City, Missouri, the children sang, as they waved their flags, the above song.

CHRISTMAS BELLS.

I heard the bells on Christmas day
Their old familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of "Peace on earth, good-will to men."

And thought how, as the day had come,
The belfries of all Christendom
Now roll along
The unbroken song
Of "Peace on earth, good-will to men."

Till ringing, singing, on its way,
The world revolved from night to day,
A voice, a chime,
A chant sublime,
Of "Peace on earth, good-will to men."

But in despair I bowed my head.—
"There is no peace on earth," I said;

"For hate is strong,
And mocks the song
Of 'Peace on earth, good-will to men.'

Then pealed the bells, more loud and deep,
'God is not dead; nor doth He sleep!
The Wrong shall fail, the Right prevail,
With peace on earth, good-will to men.'
LONGFELLOW.

"Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error,
There were no need of arsenals or forts.

The warrior's name would be a name abhorred!
And every nation, that should lift again
Its hand against a brother, on its forehead
Would wear forevermore the curse of Cain!"
HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW.

NEW BAND OF MERCY BADGES.

HUMANE EDUCATION AND PROTECTION OF ANIMALS FROM CRUELTY.

At the November meeting of the Directors of the American Humane Education Society and the Mass. Society P. C. Animals, held on the 15th ult., President Angell reported that the officers had investigated during the month 1794 cases, taken 80 horses from work, and mercifully killed 141 horses and other animals. There had recently been formed in the public schools of the city of Washington, D. C., 130 Bands of Mercy, with 5,471 members. The total number of Bands of Mercy formed by the Humane Education and Massachusetts Societies during the month was 747, making a total of 39,323. Orders had been recently received for humane publications from the Canary Islands, Cuba, Philippines, India and Japan.

EX-MAYOR SNOW OF BANGOR, MAINE.

We much regret to learn of the death of Hon. Joseph Franklin Snow, Ex-Mayor of Bangor, Maine, President of the Bangor Humane Society, and very active in humane work.

We have had at various times pleasant correspondence with Mr. Snow, which led us to take special interest in his work.

In the death of the late Alonzo Bowman [formerly Chief of Police of Brookline] the Society mourns the loss of a steadfast friend, and one who for upwards of twenty years served most faithfully as one of its agents.

A NATIONAL LAW FOR PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

We need a first-class national law for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and would hereby call the attention of our good friend President Pratt of the Washington, D. C., Society, and all our other good and influential friends connected with that Society, to this important matter, in the procuring of which we shall be glad to aid.

PARIS EXPOSITION.

We have had considerable correspondence with Mrs. Harriet C. Reynolds, who will take charge of our American Humane Education tables at the Paris Exposition, and also with the Hon. Howard J. Rogers, who is the head of the United States educational exhibits there.

It seems quite important that our "American Humane Education Society," which is sending its humane literature almost over the world, in our own and the various European and three Asiatic languages, and has caused already 39,444 Bands of Mercy to be organized in every State and Territory of our own country, largely in British America, and to some extent in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, and various of the large islands—it is important, we say, that this great, world-wide work should have proper attention at the Paris Exposition.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

DALLAS, TEXAS.

We are glad to receive on November 3d from Mr. T. J. Carr of Dallas, notice of the formation of "The Texas Society" for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and requesting further information and assistance to enter upon the work of forming Bands of Mercy throughout the State.

GENEROUS GIFT FROM ENGLAND.

We are most glad to acknowledge the receipt on October 30th, from an English banking house of a draft for £250 [over $1200 in our currency] sent by an English lady to Hon. Henry B. Hill, our treasurer, as a gift to our Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

A KIND FRIEND.

A kind friend sends us $100 to aid the work of our American Humane Education Society, and writes us an interesting letter in regard to the good effects which she has seen from her circulation of our humane publications to drivers and many others, which, if our columns were not so crowded, we should be glad to publish.

She wishes that all who have to do with horses could read Our Dumb Animals every month, and our "Humane Horse Book" and some of our other humane publications, in which wish we heartily join.

INDIA AND JAPAN.

On this October 26th we find on our table earnest letters from India and Japan wishing information and help to establish our Bands of Mercy.

FROM ONE OF BOSTON'S MOST PROMINENT CITIZENS.

MY DEAR MR. ANGELL:

I wish you would call the particular attention of your readers at this season to the books issued by your "American Humane Education Society."

"Black Beauty," "The Strike at Shane's," "Our Gold Mine at Hollyhurst," "Some of New York's 400," "For Pity's Sake," and your "Autobiography." They have been spoken of by many of my friends who have read them as being books of great interest which ought to be read by every one, old and young. I think no better Christmas presents can be given the young than either or all of these books, and the prices, as appear in your columns, are very small.

[In connection with the above, we would say that we have already printed some 300,000 copies of our various humane stories which have followed "Black Beauty," namely: "The Strike at Shane's," "Hollyhurst," "For Pity's Sake," "New York's 400," "Four Months in New Hampshire," the "Humane Horse Book," and Mr. Angell's "Autobiography."]

We have in to-day's mail an order for 100 copies of our "Humane Horse Book" and for two thousand copies of "Hollyhurst."

NORTH DAKOTA.

The well-known writer, Mrs. Frances Holley, of Bismarck, N. Dak., has been appointed State Agent for the prevention of cruelty to animals by Governor Fletcher. There is no salary attached, but there is an appropriation of $500 to cover expenses incurred in looking after the welfare of the dumb helpers who draw our loads and bear our burdens so patiently. Mrs. Holley's predecessor was Mrs. J. M. Bartholomew, wife of the Chief Justice.

It is to the efforts of noble women we must look principally for the coming of peace on earth and good will to all God's lower creatures.
GEO. T. ANGELL.

WHAT GOOD DO THE "BANDS OF MERCY" DO?

ANSWER: (1) Every "Band" formed opens a door for the distribution of humane literature.

(2) The man or woman or boy or girl who takes the pledge [even only once] will never forget it.

(3) If the pledge is repeated once a week or once a month, the impression is still stronger.

(4) If followed by proper reading, singing and instruction once a week or once a month—stronger still.

The superintendent of public schools of Minneapolis once told me that a single talk he heard while in college so changed his views that when he left college he carried with him no stronger impression from his whole college course than that of his duty to God's lower creatures.

President Hayes told me at Washington, years ago, that a single talk he once heard on the subject when at school [in Massachusetts] he had never been able to forget, and so he put into his annual message to Congress what I had written in regard to the cruel transportation of animals on our railroads.

Many millions of animals are now annually saved from terrible cruelty in the great Chicago stock-yards largely through the influence of one man, whose teacher more than sixty years ago away up in the mountains of New Hampshire put into his little hand some verses on kindness to animals, which he has remembered through life.

WILL THE BANDS LAST?

For the good of our country and the world we hope they will last as long as the world lasts—and cruelty.

If our "American Humane Education Society" had the means we should not only employ agents to form them in the schools of every State and Territory, but also to visit them every year.

I do not know whether the lower races have a future life or not, but if God created them and if He cares for them, then I think He will not forget the acts of kindness we do to make their lives happier.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

O BEAUTIFUL, MY COUNTRY.

"O Beautiful, my country!"
Be thine a nobler care
Than all thy wealth of commerce,
Thy harvests waving fair;
Be it thy pride to lift up
The manhood of the poor;
Be thou to the oppressed
Fair freedom's open door!

For thee our fathers suffered;
For thee they toiled and prayed;
Upon thy holy altar
Their willing lives they laid.
Thou hast no common birthright;
Grand memories on thee shine;
The blood of pilgrim nations
Commingled flows in thine.

O Beautiful, our country!
'Round thee in love we draw;
Thine is the grace of freedom,
The majesty of law.
Be righteousness thy sceptre,
Justice thy diadem;
And on thy shining forehead
Be peace the crowning gem.

MOTHER AT PRAYER.

"Once," says a writer, "I suddenly opened the door of my mother's room and saw her on her knees beside her chair, and heard her speak my name in prayer. I quickly and quietly withdrew with a feeling of awe and reverence in my heart. Soon I went away from home to school, then to college, then into life's sterner duties. But I never forgot that one glimpse of my mother at prayer, nor the one word—my own name—which I heard her utter. Well did I know that what I had seen that day was but a glimpse of what was going on every day in that sacred closet of prayer, and the consciousness strengthened me a thousand times in duty, in danger, and in struggle."

VICTORY FOR THE DOG.

This has been a great week for Ohio dogs. The decision of Judge Smith in the case of M. H. Fagin against the Humane Society was a sweeping declaration of independence for the dog as a creature of some value and rights in the law. Hitherto a private corporation has been in the habit of seizing dogs without the sanction of any court. This is now declared unconstitutional, as dogs are animals of value and entitled to the same consideration as swine, geese, chickens and other live stock.—Cincinnati Times-Star, March 8 and 10, 1898.

[The above seems to be in exact agreement with the decision of the Supreme Court of New York, that no humane society has the right to seize and destroy dogs without consent of owners.—EDITOR.]

ADMIRAL DEWEY.

And now it seems that Admiral Dewey has conveyed to his wife the house which the American people have presented to him.

For an old admiral accustomed to command, to marry a fascinating society widow nearly twenty years his junior and with an ample fortune of her own, would be considered by some elderly gentlemen to be about as dangerous as sailing into the harbor of Manila.

PAUL KRUGER

HE IS 78 YEARS OLD.

Used by kind permission of "Boston Herald."

THE PRESIDENT OF THE DUTCH SOUTH AFRICAN REPUBLIC.

By MRS. FLETCHER WEBSTER JEWELL, who has resided three years in the Transvaal.

"Although I do not pretend to take sides regarding the present conflict in South Africa, I do think that such misrepresentations are unnecessary and uncalled for. During my three years' residence at the Transvaal I became acquainted with President and Mrs. Kruger and several members of their family, and I must say that a more delightful old couple than Oom Paul and his wife I have seldom had the pleasure of meeting. There is no absurd ostentation about them. They are simplicity itself in their dignified courteousness, and whoever is the authority for the statement that they are deficient in refinement or that their house lacks appointments consonant with the dignity of their position is either wilfully misrepresenting or absolutely ignorant of the real condition of affairs.

"Moreover I sincerely believe that instead of rushing into war President Kruger did all in his power to avert war until he became convinced that bloodshed was inevitable.

"I also met Mrs. Kruger, and a more pleasant old lady you would not want to see. We had a delightful chat, through an interpreter who spoke German. I have also seen the old couple on other occasions, and my first favorable opinion has been strengthened by what I have since seen of them.

"Here is a little story of Mrs. Kruger, and it illustrates the kind-heartedness of the woman: Plans were being prepared to build a monument to the president, and when the drawings were completed they were shown to Mrs. Kruger. She was very much pleased with them and expressed her admiration to the architects. 'But there is one thing I would like to suggest to you,' she said. 'The design is beautiful and the whole plan pleases me very much, but there is one thing I would like, if you can arrange it without a sacrifice to art, and that is that when you design the president's hat you will leave a little hollow in the top from which the birds can drink.' This is a small thing, but it illustrates the woman's kindness of heart."—Boston Herald.

OLDEST CHIME OF BELLS.

The oldest chime of bells in America is the chime of eight on Christ Church, Salem Street, Boston. They were brought from England in 1744.

SANTA CLAUS ON THE TRAIN.

On a Christmas eve an emigrant train
Sped on through the blackness of night,
And cleft the pitchy dark in twain
With the gleam of its fierce head-light.

In a crowded car, a noisome place,
Sat a mother and her child;
The woman's face bore want's wan trace,
But the little one only smiled,

And tugged and pulled at her mother's dress.
And her voice had a merry ring.
As she lisped, "Now, mamma, come and guess
What Santa Claus 'll bring."

But sadly the mother shook her head.
As she thought of a happier past;
"He never can catch us here," she said,
"The train is going too fast."

"O, mamma, yes, he'll come, I say,
So swift are his little deer,
They runs all over the world to-day,—
I'll hang my stocking up here."

She pinned her stocking to the seat,
And closed her tired eyes,
And soon she saw each longed-for sweet
In dreamland's paradise.

On a seat behind the little maid
A rough man sat apart,
But a soft light o'er his features played,
And stole into his heart.

As the cars drew up at a busy town
The rough man left the train,
But scarce had from the steps jumped down
Ere he was back again.

And a great big bundle of Christmas joys
Bulged out from his pocket wide;
He filled the stocking with sweets, and toys
He laid by the dreamer's side.

At dawn the little one woke with a shout,
"Twas sweet to hear her glee;
"I knewed that Santa would find me out;
He caught the train, you see."

Though some from smiling may scarce refrain,
The child was surely right,
The good Saint Nicholas caught the train,
And came aboard that night.

For the saint is fond of masquerade
And may fool the old and wise,
And so he came to the little maid
In an emigrant's disguise.

And he dresses in many ways because
He wishes no one to know him,
For he never says, "I am Santa Claus,"
But his good deeds always show him.

BUY A POCKET COMPASS.

As the season of snow-blizzards in some parts of our country is now approaching, we suggest to all residing in those sections that the buying of a little pocket compass may save lives.

We have carried one in our pocket for it may be forty years, and it has been worth to us more than a hundred times its weight in gold, when lost on a prairie in Minnesota, and down in the woods of Florida, and in finding our way over the cities of a large part of Europe, and in getting sunny rooms at hotels instead of northerly ones where the sun never shone. If we had space we could relate some of our funny experiences with this little compass. Some years ago a teacher in one of our extreme Western States saved the lives of her children by tying them together and successfully escaping a terrible blizzard. At that time we sent her a gold compass for future use, and through our Boston dailies and our own little paper suggested that all who were liable to be caught in blizzards should carry constantly this little guide to tell them the path of safety.

We now suggest that a pocket compass might prove a very valuable Christmas present.

RALPH WALDO TRINE.

About eleven years ago I offered to all the college students in the United States a prize of $100 for the best essay on "The Effect of Humane Education on the Prevention of Crime," and sent some 70,000 copies of four large printed pages of condensed information to college students throughout the United States, also put all college papers and libraries on the free list of Our Dumb Animals, and sent bound volumes of our publications to various college libraries.

The above prize offer resulted in a large competition of college students. The prize was awarded to Ralph Waldo Trine, then a student in Knox College, Illinois.

Since Mr. Trine's graduation he has come to Boston, become one of the directors of our "American Humane Education Society" and "Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," and has written three books entitled, "What the World's a Seeking," "In Tune with the Infinite," and "The Greatest Thing Ever Known," all of which are having a large circulation.

His publishers, Thomas Y. Crowell & Co. of Boston and New York, have now just issued another of his books, entitled "Every Living Creature, or Heart-training Through the Animal World," the retail price of which, we understand, is 35 cents. It is a book full of important thoughts to all humanely disposed persons.

FROM A DIRECTOR OF OUR "AMERICAN HUMANE EDUCATION SOCIETY" AND "MASSACHUSETTS S. P. C. A."

MILTON, MASS., Oct. 23, 1899.

MY DEAR MR. ANGELL:

While abroad this summer I spent between two and three months in Norway. It was very pleasant to see the kindness shown to animals by the Norwegians. In some parts of the country the people have none too much for themselves, but this does not seem to prevent their feeding their stock well. The horses are a small, sturdy race and most intelligent—in fact, they are more like dogs in their behavior than horses. With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

ALBERT A. H. MEREDITH.

Our Boston publishers, Estes & Lauriat, send us "The Adventures of Billy Trill, a Canary," the listening to the reading of which has given us a pleasant evening. We recommend its reading by and to children, both young and old.

SENATOR HERBERT C. PARSONS.

As almost all Massachusetts knows, the above named gentleman [praised so far as we have seen by almost every newspaper in the State] lost his re-election as senator because he declined in one instance to vote with his political party. We are not a politician, but we have known Mr. Parsons many years and we do admire an independent, honest man, whether he be Republican or Democrat.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

ASKING THE APOSTLE PAUL TO JOIN THE CHURCH.

Vice-President Hill hands us, on October 23d, a request from a Pennsylvania Audubon Society asking us to sign a pledge never to purchase or use the feathers of wild birds for ornamentation, etc., etc. Vice-President Hill remarks with a smile that it strikes him like asking the Apostle Paul to join the church.

A VENEERED SAVAGE.

We see in our papers a telegram from Windsor Castle, November 21st, that the Kaiser, now visiting his grandmother the Queen, in to-day's shooting killed 178 pheasants and 328 rabbits. Of course he had persons to load his guns and to drive these 178 pheasants and 328 rabbits where they could be readily shot. How many he wounded and did not kill is not mentioned. We do most sincerely wish that some of the monarchs and princes and princelets who are so fond of shooting God's harmless creatures for the fun of shooting them, would get together and shoot each other. A telegram to that effect would cause us to exclaim most earnestly: "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

"For Pity's Sake," by Sarah Nelson Carter, will appeal to many earnest and thoughtful women, and should be read by every woman in the land.—The Club Woman, Nov., 1899.

ROOSEVELT.

[From Boston Herald editorial, Oct. 27th.]

"Gen. Sherman was right when he said that 'war is hell,' and he had even more grounds for this opinion than the fact of the deaths incurred in it warrants. The talk of men like Gov. Roosevelt, who would persuade the people that war is a glorious thing for a nation, is a cruel insult to those who suffer from it. War may be necessary at times because the world is still imperfect, but it is something always to be dreaded, not welcomed, and to be brought to an end as speedily as possible. It is a reproach to civilization when it is presented in any other light in a country like ours."

To the above we add:

We tried hard to prevent Mr. Roosevelt's appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, for we felt sure that if he got into that place he would get us into a war with somebody about something.

If we had succeeded in preventing his appointment we believe the Spanish government would have been persuaded by our President and Secretary Sherman to abandon Cuba without the firing of a single gun, and all the past suffering both to animals and men that our two wars have cost, and all the future suffering they may hereafter cause [which no man can at present estimate] would have been prevented.

Depew, in his speech nominating Roosevelt for Governor, quoted Roosevelt as saying, "I have done as much as any one to bring on this war."

We never doubted it.

We suspect that but for him the Maine would never have been sent to Havana when we had a whole fleet within a few hours sail of that port.

Mr. Roosevelt calls some of our most respected citizens who are in favor of peace and arbitration, "copperheads."

A western editor calls Mr. Roosevelt "a veneered savage."

WHAT SANTA CLAUS DID FOR THE ANIMALS.

A CHRISTMAS STORY.

[For Our Dumb Animals, by CHARLOTTE CURTIS SMITH, of Rochester, N. Y.]

The midnight bells were ringing. Santa Claus was driving post-haste through the streets. There were many people passing to and fro, but no one saw him. Large feathery snow-flakes obscured his sleigh, and his eight reindeer were speeding along as silently as fell the snow-flakes. There were no dolls or skates or sleds or toys of any kind in his sleigh, because he had just finished filling the children's stockings.

Now he had other work to do. So he gave a low whistle to his reindeer, and guided them down a narrow street to a stable. The hostlers were asleep. Santa Claus glided past them into the stalls and quickly lengthened the halters of the horses so that they could lie down and rest their tired legs. Hastening from stable to stable he went to the harness-rooms and let out the check-reins, and took away some of the cruel bits, leaving other bits in their place. He put sugar and apples into the mangers, and he gave a double quantity of apples to the docked horses, at the same time saying: "Poor creatures, I'm going to put a stop to this cruel business of cutting off your beautiful tails."

Then jumping into his sleigh he drove to another part of the city, where he found lame and sick horses. Taking off his fur mittens he rubbed the poor animals' stiff and aching legs with liniment, and filled the empty mangers with hay and oats, and in a jiffy he mended all the loose blinders he could find. In an old tumble-down shed he spied a galled mule shivering with the cold. Quick as a flash Santa Claus put a blanket on the half-frozen animal, gave it a bundle of hay, and nailed boards over the holes in the shed.

As this good-hearted friend rode from place to place he threw a blanket over every horse that stood exposed to the snow-storm in the streets, and he threw food to all the stray cats and dogs.

In every house he gave seed and water to the neglected canaries and fresh water to the gold-fishes. The sparrows roosting under the eaves of the buildings, and the pigeons and doves in the church towers took their heads from under their wings and saw this merry old elf flying through the air as he threw a shower of grain to the birds, and in the twinkling of an eye was out of sight.

Then on he fled to the country farm-yards where he surprised the sleeping horses with apples and sugar, and the cattle and sheep with chopped pumpkins and a supply of rock-salt. To the pigs he gave long ears of yellow corn, and he flung a shower of grain to the hens, ducks, turkeys, geese and guinea-fowls.

Having finished his Christmas round with the domestic animals, Santa gave a long, shrill whistle, and away he sped to the woods, where he found the owls wide awake, watching for him.

"Merry Christmas, my wise friends," cried Santa, tossing packages of meat up into the trees.

"Tu-whit, tu-whoo, a merry Christmas to you," sang back the owls from far and near.

Santa had been very shy while in the city and around the farm-yards, but when he reached the woods he felt perfectly at home. There many animals were waiting for him. The woods were all aglare with bright eyes, watching for the jolly little man and his reindeer. There was a rustling of little feet, and suddenly a troop of rabbits and woodchucks appeared close up to Santa Claus' sleigh, standing on their hind legs to receive heads of cabbage and celery. The squirrels and chipmunks were fast asleep, the weather being too cold for them to be out of their nests; but kind old Santa dropped nuts into the hollow trees, a happy surprise for the little animals.

All the birds were ready for their Christmas dinners, nor did Santa Claus even forget the wild bees. They all wished Santa Claus a merry Christmas and a happy new year.

A PLEA FOR THE BIRDS.

"There is a stain of blood on every bonnet
That has a dead bird stretched upon it."

Will there be a song-bird left in the country another year? Look at the milliners' openings, and answer the question for yourselves. The slaughter of the song-birds is something appalling. They are killed, not by the hundred, nor by the thousand, but by the million. Millions of skins are sold every year to the millinery trade.

While feeding its young, each bird will destroy hundreds of insects every day; and all through the summer they are busily at work feeding upon the grubs and worms that devour the grain and fruit and foliage of trees. When famine comes upon the land, it will be no "mysterious dispensation of God." It will be the result of this fearful sacrifice of bird-life.

Every woman with a woman's heart in her breast should take a firm stand in this matter. She should say: "I will not wear the plumage; I blush to think I have ever done so." It may be too late already to save ourselves from the consequences of our sin, but at least we can leave such a supply of breasts and dead birds on hand that the few live birds remaining next season will not have to be murdered to satisfy the blood-thirsty demand of this cruel fashion.

The Living Church.

WORTHY OF THOUGHT BY EVERY HUMAN BEING.

Was it mere chance that brought into existence all the worlds that we see in the heavens on every fair night? Is it mere chance that controls their wanderings through space? Is it mere chance that gives us summer and winter, seed-time and harvest—power to enjoy beauty with the eye and music with the ear, and an intellect which enables us to measure the planets and compute correctly the times at which they will appear? Were Raphael and Michel Angelo simply the work of chance? Or is there an Almighty power beyond our comprehension whose great laws govern and direct the universe?

SOFTLY THE NIGHT IS SLEEPING.

A CHRISTMAS HYMN.

Softly the night is sleeping
On Bethlehem's peaceful hill;
Silent the shepherds watching,
The gentle flocks are still.
But hark! the wondrous music
Falls from the opening sky;
Valley and cliff re-echo
Glory to God on high!

Chorus—Glory to God, glory to God,
Glory to God! it rings again,
Peace on earth, good-will to men.

Day in the East is breaking;
Day o'er the crimsoned earth;
Now the glad world is waking,
Glad in the Savior's birth!
See where the clear star bendeth
Over the manger blest;
See where the infant Jesus
Smiles upon Mary's breast!
Come with the gladsome shepherds,
Quick hastening from the fold;
Come with the wise men, pouring
Incense and myrrh and gold.
Come to Him, poor and lowly;
Around the cradle throng;

Come with your hearts of sunshine,
And sing the angels' song.
Weave ye the wreaths unfading,
The fir-tree and the pine:
Green from the snows of winter,
To deck the holy shrine;
Bring ye the happy children!
For this is Christmas morn;
Jesus, the sinless infant,
Jesus, the Lord, is born.

ANGELL PRIZE CONTESTS.

A splendid way to raise money in schools, churches, Sunday-schools, or elsewhere for any object preferred.

ANGELL PRIZE CONTESTS IN HUMANE SPEAKING.

We have beautiful sterling silver medals, of which this cut shows the size and face inscriptions.

On the back is inscribed, "The American Humane Education Society."

We sell them at one dollar each, which is just what we pay for them by the hundred.

Each is in a box on red velvet, and we make no charge for postage when sent by mail.

The plan is this: Some large church or public hall is secured, several schools, Sunday schools, granges, or other societies are invited to send their best speaker or reciter to compete for the prize medal; some prominent citizen presides; other prominent citizens act as the committee of award, and a small admission fee, ten or twenty cents, pays all the costs, and leaves a handsome balance for the local humane society or "Band of Mercy," or school or Sunday-school or church or library or any other object preferred.

"BLESSED ARE THE MERCIFUL."

We have in our principal office [in a large frame and conspicuous position] the names of those who have kindly remembered our two Societies in their wills.

When we get a building we intend to have them so engraved in it as to last through the centuries.

Nations, like individuals, are powerful in the degree that they command the sympathies of their neighbors.

In hiring a herdie, coupe, or other carriage never forget to look at the horses and hire those that look the best and have no docked tails. When we take a herdie we pick out one drawn by a good horse, tell the driver not to hurry, but take it easy, and give him five or ten cents over his fare for being kind to his horse. We never ride behind a dock-tailed horse.

Send for prize essays published by Our American Humane Education Society on the best plan of settling the difficulties between capital and labor, and receive a copy without charge.

SONGS OF HAPPY LIFE, &c.

For prices of Miss S. J. Eddy's new book, above named, and a variety of humane publications, address Art and Natural Study Publishing Co., Providence R. I.

One thing we must never forget, namely: that the infinitely most important work for us is the humane education of the millions who are soon to come on the stage of action.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

What do you consider, Mr. Angell, the most important work you do?

Answer. Talking each month to the editors of every newspaper and magazine in North America north of Mexico, who in their turn talk to probably over sixty millions of readers.

"Just so soon and so far as we pour into all our schools the songs, poems and literature of mercy towards these lower creatures, JUST SO SOON AND SO FAR SHALL WE REACH THE ROOTS NOT ONLY OF CRUELTY BUT OF CRIME."

GEO. T. ANGELL.

Refuse to ride in any cab, herdie or carriage drawn by a docked horse, and tell the driver why.

FOR FREE DISTRIBUTION.

To those who will have them properly posted we send:

- (1.) Placards for the protection of birds.
- (2.) Placards for the protection of horses from docking and tight check-reins.

WHAT A DOCKED HORSE TELLS.

- (1.) That the owner does not care one straw for the suffering of dumb animals.
- (2.) That the owner does not care one straw for the good opinion of nine-tenths of his fellow-citizens who witness the effects of his cruelty.

Every unkind treatment to the cow poisons the milk—even talking unkindly to her.

Is it cruel to keep a horse locked up in a stable without exercise?

Answer: Just as cruel as it would be to keep a boy, or girl, or man, or woman in the same condition. If to this is added solitary confinement without the company of other animals, then the cruelty is still greater.

GEO. T. ANGELL.

WORTH REMEMBERING.

- (1.) Avoid so far as possible drinking any water which has been contaminated by lead pipes or lead lined tanks.
- (2.) Avoid drinking water which has been run through galvanised iron pipes.
- (3.) Avoid using anything acid which has been kept in a tin can.
- (4.) When gripe or other epidemics are prevailing wear a little crude sulphur in your boots or shoes.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS.

Hundreds of thousands of children can never be taught directly in our schools to love either their fathers or mothers, but they can be taught to be constantly saying kind words and doing kind acts to the lower creatures, and in this way may be made better, kinder and more merciful in all the relations of life. BACTERIOLOGICAL RESEARCH.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS IN THE SECTION OF STATE MEDICINE, ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BRITISH MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, PORTSMOUTH, AUGUST, 1899.

BY GEORGE WILSON, M.A., M.D., LL.D.

"After all these long years of flickering hope, I am prepared to contend that the indiscriminate maiming and slaughter of animal life with which these bacteriological methods of research and experimentation have been inseparably associated cannot be proved to have saved one single human life, or lessened in any appreciable degree the load of human suffering.

"I have not allied myself to the anti-vivisectionists, but I accuse my profession of misleading the public as to the cruelties and horrors which are perpetrated on animal life. When it is stated that the actual pain involved in these experiments is commonly of the most trifling description, there is a suppression of the most palpable kind, which could only be accounted for at the time by ignorance of the actual facts. I admit that in the mere operation of injecting a virus, whether cultivated or not, there may be little or no pain, but the cruelty does not lie in the operation itself, which is permitted to be performed without anesthetics, but in the after-effects. Whether so-called toxins are injected under the skin, into the peritoneum, into the cranium under the dura mater, into the pleural cavity, into the veins, eyes, or other organs—and all these methods are ruthlessly practiced—there is the long-drawn-out agony. The animal so innocently operated on may have to live days, weeks, or months, with no anesthetic to assuage its sufferings, and nothing but death to relieve.

And what triumphs has bacteriology achieved in stemming the tide of human disease on these empirical lines? Pasteur's anti-rabic vaccination is, I believe—[and others with me]—a delusion. Koch's tuberculin cure for phthisis has long since been labeled as worse than worthless."

THIS DOG SAVED TWO LIVES.

For the above picture and the following account we are indebted to the Boston Post, though a similar account appeared in other Boston daily papers of the same date:

If it had not been for "Duke," the large St. Bernard dog owned by John B. Gill of Bourne Street, Forest Hills, Boston, there would doubtless have been two lives lost in the fire that broke out at "Woodbourne" early yesterday morning.

Mr. Gill, who is a lineman in the employ of the L road, is engaged by the Minot heirs as a caretaker in one of the three houses that comprise the "Woodbourne" property. When he started for his work Sunday night Mr. Gill, according to his usual custom, left a lamp burning in the front hall.

Mrs. Gill and Archie Simonds, a 6-year-old boy who boards with the family, were asleep on the first floor. About 1 o'clock there was a cry of fire and the neighbors who were awakened were startled to see the sky lighted with the glare of flames.

An unknown man ran to a nearby box and pulled in an alarm. When he returned to the scene with others of the neighbors he found the occupants of the house running out scantily clad. Rushing about in front of the house, barking in a frenzy, was the dog. It was he that had aroused the sleepers.

Yesterday Mrs. Gill told the story of the fire as she lay prostrated from the shock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, who are neighbors of hers.

"Yes," said she, "if it hadn't been for Duke we would surely have been burned or suffocated. About 1 o'clock I was awakened by a terrible barking. Duke had my arm in his mouth and was trying to drag me from bed. When I got up to see what the matter was there was Duke dragging Archie along over the floor towards the door. Then the dog came back and tugged at my night dress till I rushed to the door leading to the front hall.

"The hallway was full of smoke and flames, and snatching up Archie I started out through the kitchen to the back door and got out safely. All the time Duke was barking and tugging away at our garments in an effort to get us out quickly. Why, he even pounced against the closed door and tried to break it open. He behaved like a hero throughout."

Duke, a great shaggy St. Bernard, has been in the family for over a year.

We add the following from the Boston Evening Transcript:

The animal discovered the fire at about 1.15 A. M., and at once went to Mrs. Gill's bedside and by scratching on the bedclothes and licking her face tried to awaken her. At length he got her arm in his jaws as if to drag her from the bed, and it was this and his howling that aroused her. The dog then went to the boy's bed and almost dragged the youngster to the floor in his eagerness to get him up. The dog's alertness probably saved the two lives, for Mrs. Gill had barely time to catch up a little clothing and make her way through the hall, which was already on fire, out of the house. The house was destroyed.

RATHER HARD ON THE RAILROAD.

We have just read of a mercantile travelling agent who weighed about two hundred and fifty pounds, and who, finding it very important to get on board a railroad train, at a small station where the train did not usually stop, telegraphed the conductor to stop there for a large party. The train stopped and he stepped on board. When the conductor asked him where the large party was, he replied by asking the conductor if he didn't consider him a large party.

This story will go very well with that of the country merchant and deacon who invited six drummers to take a seat in his pew Sunday morning, brought around the contribution box and obtained from each a liberal donation, but on Monday said he felt obliged to tell them that as he could not patronize all and did not wish to show partiality, he felt compelled to order from another house not represented. We presume those drummers thought [as we once heard President Pierce say to a jury on the trial of a case in New Hampshire] that a good, honest old deacon is not necessarily any better than any other good, honest old man.

"But, papa," wailed the young woman, "you can have no idea how he loves me. He is willing to die for me this minute."

"Well," said the old man, scratching his chin thoughtfully, "don't know that I have any objection to that. I was afraid he wanted to marry you."

In cold weather blanket your horses while stopping.

"I AM NOT INTERESTED IN ANIMALS,"

Said a lady, whom we casually met at a hotel a few days since, "but I am interested in the society for the protection of children."

"A very good institution," we replied, "and we are glad to say that we have been for many years a life member of our Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children."

It had probably never occurred to this good lady that man is only one out of about three hundred and twenty thousand kinds of living creatures that God has created in this world of ours, and that while in the city of Boston alone there are nearly two hundred charitable organizations supported by private benevolence for the protection of human beings, there is only one, with two or three little branches, in the whole Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the protection of dumb animals. It seems to us a duty very clear to strive to secure a higher protection for the innumerable millions that cannot speak, and that nothing can be more important than the work of our "American Humane Education Society."

WORDS OF GEORGE WASHINGTON.

"My first wish is to see this plague to mankind (war) banished from the earth, and the sons and daughters of this world employed in more pleasing and innocent amusements than in preparing implements and exercising them for the destruction of mankind."

From CHRISTMAS SERMON OF REV. DR. TALMAGE, published in New York Christian Witness:

"Behold in the first place, that on the first night of Christ's life God honored the brute creation. You cannot get into that Bethlehem barn without going past the camels, the mules, the dogs, the oxen. The brutes of that stable heard the first cry of the infant Lord. Some of the old painters represent the oxen and camels kneeling that night before the new-born babe. And well might they kneel. Have you ever thought that Christ came, among other things, to alleviate the sufferings of the brute creation? Was it not appropriate that He should during the first few days and nights of his life on earth be surrounded by the dumb beasts whose moan and plaint have for ages been a prayer to God for the arresting of their tortures and the righting of their wrongs? It did not merely "happen so" that the unintelligent creatures of God should have been that night in close neighborhood. Not a kennel in all the centuries, not a robbed bird's nest, not a worn-out horse on tow-path, not a herd freezing in the poorly-built cow-pen, not a freight car in summer time bringing the bees to market without water through a thousand miles of agony, not a surgeon's room witnessing the struggles of fox or rabbit or pigeon or dog in the horrors of vivisection, but has an interest in the fact that Christ was born in a stable, surrounded by brutes. He remembers that night, and the prayer He heard in their pitiful moan He will answer in the punishment of those who maltreat them."

"Standing then, as I imagine now I do, in that Bethlehem night with an infant Christ on the one side and the speechless creatures of God on the other, I cry, Look out how you strike the rowel into that horse's side. Take off that curbed bit from that bleeding mouth. Remove that saddle from that raw back. Shoot not for fun that bird that is too small for food. Forget not to put water into the cage of that canary. Throw out some crumbs to those birds caught too far north in the winter's inclemency. Arrest that man who is making that one horse draw a load heavy enough for three. Rush in upon that scene where boys are torturing a cat, or transferring butterfly and grasshopper. Drive not off that old robin, for her nest is a mother's cradle and under her wing there may be three or four prima donnas of the sky in training. And in your families and in your schools teach the coming generation more mercy than the present generation has ever shown."

THE MOTHER'S PRAYER.

Lord, give me this soul!
I have waked for it when I should have slept,
I have yearned over it and I have wept,
Till in my own the thought of it has away
All through the night and day.

Lord, give me this soul!
If I might only lift its broken strands,
To lay them gently in Thy loving hands;
If I might know it had found peace in Thee,
What rest, what peace to me!

Thou wilt give me this soul!
Else why the joy, the grief, the doubt, the pain,
The thought perpetual, the one refrain,
The ceaseless longing that upon Thy breast
The tempest-tossed may rest?
Dear Lord, give me this soul!

HOW A DOG WAS SOLD.

Here is a true dog story: A family down town having a false grate in one of the rooms of the house placed some red paper behind it to give it the effect of fire. One of the coldest days the dog belonging to the household came in from out of doors, and seeing the paper in the grate deliberately walked up to it and laid down before it, curled up in the best way to receive the glowing heat as it came from the fire. He remained motionless for a few moments; feeling no warmth he raised his head and looked over his shoulder at the grate; still feeling no heat he went across and carefully applied his nose to the grate and smelt of it. It was cold as ice. With a look of the most supreme disgust, his tail curled down between his legs, every hair on his body saying, "I'm sold," the dog trotted out of the room, not even deigning to cast a look at the party in the room who had watched his actions and laughed so heartily at his misfortunes. That dog had reason as well as instinct.—Troy Times.

NO SOCIETY IN THE WORLD.

No society in the world exhibits more of the spirit of Christianity than "The American Humane Education Society." Its organ, Our Dumb Animals, is always full of good things—beautiful pictures and interesting anecdotes of animals—and in merciless scoring of cruelty in every form.

The society has been the means of establishing over thirty-eight thousand Bands of Mercy, with between one and two millions members. It has put into circulation over two million copies of "Black Beauty" in the English language, besides translating it into eight European and three Asiatic languages. Its other prize stories, "The Strike at Shane's" and "Hollyhurst," etc., etc., are almost as popular, the last edition of "The Strike" having been 50,000 copies.

Subscribe for Our Dumb Animals for the children—the old folks will read it too, you may be sure.—Ypsilantian, Ypsilanti, Mich.

"Mamma, what would you do if that big vase in the parlor should get broken?" said Tommy.

"I should spank whoever did it," said Mrs. B., gazing severely at her little son.

"Well, then, you'd better begin to get up your muscle—pa broke it."

OUR KITTIES WISH YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

[From The West Coast and Puget Sound Lumberman, Tacoma.]

"A newspaper man has so much to read and re-view that he grows sick often at the sight of a paper. But he has his favorites among his exchanges that come to him week in and out, and as he digs them out of the pile he feels a sense of pleasure. Occasionally there comes to the office of the Lumberman a little twelve page paper, that has nothing to do with any trade or business save only the business of mercy and peace. Mercy for beasts and peace for men. It is edited by an old man, and even a friend can see a little egotism cropping out here and there, but that is only a little bit of harmless undertow over which moves the great ocean of good will. It is full of candor, defiant of evil, challenging cruelty, defending right and opposing wars. It is the patron saint of dumb brutes and fights for them continually. It should be in every household; children should read it, and the older ones should not overlook it. It is called Our Dumb Animals."

It is one of the pleasures of living—the kind words we hear and that come to us, and we don't mind one bit being called old or egotistical. We shall never forget in this world—perhaps not in the next—how the last time we saw John Boyle O'Reilly [whose monument now stands in our city] as he took from his desk our Autobiographical Recollections and said: "There, Angell, I keep that book on my desk and when I have a little leisure I like to take it up and read it."

More than a hundred thousand copies of this book have been already sent out and any editor who would like to examine it can, by writing us, obtain without charge a postpaid copy. Its wide circulation has greatly aided the extension of our work.
